

KEY AIR BASE OF SUWON IMPERILED BY COMMUNIST PINCERS THAT CLOSE IN FROM NORTH AND SOUTH IN DRIVE

Four Red Columns, Two of Them Armored, Thrust Forward and Fan Out Over Peninsula—Approaching Contact With American Infantry

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 3—(INS)—The key air base of Suwon was gravely imperiled today by a Communist pincer that closed in from the north and south while another double-barreled Red drive reached eastward in an attempt to link forces with an invasion beachhead on South Korea's east coast.

Four Red columns, two of them armored, thrust forward and fanned out over the peninsula, approaching contact with United States Army infantry south of Suwon, despite an incessant American-Australian air offensive that extended deep over North Korea's territory itself.

Expanding invasion forces pushed and curled two columns to within eight miles north and 12 miles south of Suwon while two others drove to a point 50 miles due east toward the Communist Samchok-Kangnung beachhead being hammered by Allied naval bombardment.

U. S. warships, augmented by British and Australian naval vessels, ranged both the eastern and western Korean coasts, constantly on the alert for sneak attacks by submarines, the nationality of which would be difficult to detect.

It was recalled that America's naval chief, Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, estimated last February that 70 to 80 Russian submarines were based at Asiatic ports.

The airborne infantry vanguard of many thousands of American troops being rushed to Korea moved swiftly into combat positions somewhere south of Suwon, while light tanks were reportedly flown to support the foot soldiers in their approaching collision with the Red armor.

The tanks were observed racing through Tokyo streets along a route to an airfield from which war supplies have been airlifted to the Korean front.

U. S. Air Force B-26's and fighter craft rained bombs, rockets and machine gun fire down upon a railroad bridge and three makeshift wooden spans over which the Communists were pouring an ever-increasing flow of troops, tanks and artillery across the Han River southward.

Simultaneously, giant American B-29 bombers, with escorts that included Australian Air Force Mustang fighters, carried the war into North Korea by smashing with heavy explosives at airfields around Yonpo following a devastating Superfort raid on the airfield at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

At Yonpo, 35 miles north of the 38th Parallel which marks the boundary between South and North Korea, the B-29's of America's 20th Air Force carried out what was officially termed an "excellent" bombing Sunday.

A Far East Air Forces communiqué quoted returning pilots as saying "the entire target area was covered by smoke following the strike."

B-29 airmen returning from the previous bombing of the Pyongyang airfield said, according to the communiqué, that "at least seven aircraft had been left burning and many more . . . damaged, in addition to general widespread destruction inflicted upon installations as a whole."

Woman Dies 20 Minutes After Entering Hospital

CROYDON, July 3—Twenty minutes after she was admitted to Harriman Hospital, Bristol, Friday evening, Mrs. Bertha Sharer, of 401 Central avenue, died. Death, according to Bucks Co. Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, Cornwall Heights, was due to coronary thrombosis. Mrs. Sharer was taken to the hospital in the ambulance of Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Philadelphia Couple Wed in Council Chamber

History was made Saturday afternoon when a wedding was performed in the Bristol Council Chamber in the municipal building at three o'clock.

The couple wedded was Frank Massa and Anna M. Miller, both of Philadelphia. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krivulka, also of Philadelphia.

The ceremony was performed by Justice of Peace Anthony R. Niccol. The witnesses were Mrs. Edith Somers, Burgess I. Johnston Hetherington and Chief of Police Linford J. Jones.

The couple are friends of Mrs. Somers and Burgess and Mrs. Hetherington. The ceremony was to have been performed in the office of Justice Niccol, but at the suggestion of Burgess Hetherington was performed in the council chamber.

This is the first wedding ever to have taken place in the council chamber.

WEDDINGS OF INTEREST

TRIBLEY-HARMAN
A pre-holiday ceremony united in marriage here on Saturday at four o'clock, Miss Joan M. Harman, daughter of Mr. Benjamin Harman, 622 Spruce street, and Mr. Robert H. Treibley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Treibley, of Rogers road, Bristol township. To Mr. Edward Harman, Spruce street, brother of the bride, fell the honor of escorting her to the altar of Bristol Methodist Church where the Rev. Charles Koch performed the ceremony. The bride approached the altar to strains of a wedding march, played by organist Mrs. Lee VanGilder. Mrs. VanGilder was also accompanist for Mrs. John VanSoest as she sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The trio of young women attending the bride was inclusive of: Maid of honor, a sister, Miss Jean Harman, wearing pink; bridesmaids, Miss Janet Treibley, Bristol township, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Claire Bonner, Spruce street, wearing aqua and nile green, respectively. Their gowns were made of marquisette over taffeta, they being patterned with short sleeves and ruffles which formed apron effect. Elbow length, marquisette, detachable sleeves; white slippers; and lace tiaras with back veils were worn, the latter matching the gowns. The maid of honor carried red roses and the other two young women, yellow roses. These formed colonial style bouquets. The flower girl, "Peggy" Rinehold, Bristol Terrace I, niece of the bride, was attired in an orchid taffeta gown, with apron effect of lace. This was floor length. She wore a matching tiara, white slippers and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rose-buds.

The bridegroom was of white satin, entrain, with long sleeves, the neckline being filled in with net. The headpiece, which had orange blossom trim, held a net veil, and the bride carried a colonial bouquet consisting of white roses with a lavender orchid at the center.

As his attendant, Mr. Treibley had Mr. Earl Cochran, Garden street, the ushers being Messrs. John Harman, Spruce street, brother of the bride, and John Rinehold, Bristol Terrace I.

The place for the reception was the Harman home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Treibley left for a four days motor trip. Travelling costume of the bride consisted of a white dotted Swiss dress, white accessories, and she wore the orchid from her bouquet. The two will live at 622 Spruce street. Both are Bristol high school graduates. To

GORSKI FIRE LOSS IS ABOUT $15,000 BARN DESTROYED

600 Bales of Hay, Tractor, Other Machinery, Five Pigs Also Prey

WIRING IS BLAMED

20 Pieces of Apparatus Called To Penns Park, Saturday Evening

(Special To The Courier)

PENNS PARK, July 3—Firemen, manning tank wagons, and hauling water from streams two miles distant, were able on Saturday evening to save a dwelling house, a number of farm outbuildings, and 195 pigs when flames destroyed a large barn on the farm of Joseph Gorski, here.

Loss is estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000.

Only five of the 200 pigs were lost, and, according to firemen, this quintet got out of the pens which adjoined the burning barn and ran into the blazing building. The pens were kept wetted down and the 195 remaining pigs were later removed to safety and eventually to other pens on the property.

One of the first jobs of the firemen upon arriving at the scene at eight o'clock was to pour streams

PENNSBURY PUPILS TO BE ON PART-TIME

First, Second, Third and Fourth Grades to Have Half-Day Sessions

CROWD CLASSROOMS

FALLSINGTON, July 3—The first, second, third and fourth grades of the Pennsbury Schools will be scheduled for half-day sessions starting in September, the Pennsbury Joint School Board has decided. Overcrowded classrooms was given as the reason.

The emergency measure will be in effect only for the 1950-51 school term, since the new Pennsbury High School will be available for classes in the fall of 1951. Following the State Department of Instruction's schedule for schools on the half-day plan, morning sessions will be from 8:15 A. M. to 12:15 P. M., with afternoon session from 12:30 to 4:30 P. M.

After high school students occupy the new building, there will be adequate space for the elementary grades since the Fallsington and Yardley buildings will be used solely for the younger children.

In addition, the Makefield and Edgewood buildings will continue to be used as grade schools.

When two or more children in the same family attend school in the lower grades, all the children will be assigned to the same session. At the end of the first semester, all half-session classes will be reversed so that children and teachers attending school in the morning will change to afternoon

MANY VIEW HOUSE BUILT BY VOLUNTEERS

Raymond Clark and Family Spend The First Night In Their New Home

ARE VERY GRATEFUL

CROYDON, July 3—Residents of this community and other interested folk flocked through the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clark and family on Wyoming avenue yesterday when the house was opened for public inspection.

The house was built by volunteer residents of the community to replace the former Clark home which with the contents was destroyed by fire on the afternoon of June 21st.

The frame structure covered with imitation brick siding presented an attractive appearance and was the marvel of those who saw it for the first time. The Clark family moved into their new home last evening and spent their first night there last night.

All of the labor was given free and the building materials furnished at cost, so that Mr. and Mrs. Clark and their seven children could be rehabilitated.

The living room, two bedrooms, kitchen and bathroom on the first floor are plain but substantial and neat. The walls are tinted in peach and blue. There are electric fixtures, and linoleum on the kitchen and bathroom floors.

Beds for some of the children are in the half story above the first floor.

The entire project was conceived almost before the embers of the blaze had cooled off and work was started the next afternoon. Men and women worked until midnight, almost every night, to complete the project in the shortest time possible.

The entire project is a striking example of helpfulness on the part of the people of Croydon for one of its families stricken with disaster.

The Clarks are very grateful for the kindnesses of their neighbors.

BOY, 5, KILLED ON ROUTE 13, BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, 12 HOURS AFTER ARRIVING HERE WITH HIS PARENTS FOR A VISIT; BRISTOL MAN DIES OF INJURIES DUE TO AUTO CRASH

Number Treated at Local Hospital Over Week-End

A number of individuals were treated at Harriman Hospital during the week-end, including two for dog bites, others for slight injuries.

Anthony Marcaluso, 11, of Beaver Dam road, suffered dog bites of the right shoulder and arm, and abrasions of the back, four stitches being required. M. Davis, of Cedar avenue, Croydon, was bitten on the right leg and right arm by a dog, yesterday.

Also treated at the hospital were: Stephen Sosinski, aged four, of Newportville, two stitches in laceration of small finger of left hand; Eugene Feeny, Philadelphia, laceration of finger when it became caught between plank and transformer while he was doing electrical work; Ann Wade, Philadelphia, laceration of left foot, cut on glass at Silver Lake, four stitches required; "Billy" Matlack, Swan street, laceration on top of head, requiring two stitches, sustained when he struck head against another's tooth; Michael Moffo, 203 Wood street, injury to left elbow when he fell.

The visitors arrived at the Leighton residence about 3:30 Saturday morning for a week's stay, the father being on vacation. Jack, the victim of the tragedy, played about the Leighton home with John, 10, Valerie, 7, and Dennis Leighton, 3, until the afternoon, when the trio decided to go to Otter Creek, bathing.

The three youngsters were skipping on the divisor of Route 13 which separates the four lanes of traffic. According to witnesses the Vito child ran across the highway into the path of the Wade car.

Wade was accompanied by his wife who gathered the child in her arms and she and her husband drove to the Harriman Hospital, Bristol, where the youngster was pronounced dead.

Bristol police took charge of the case, Officers Della and Chiehlitti investigating, until Bristol Township Police Chief Joseph Seader arrived. Bucks County Coroner J. Alfred Rigby was called. The body was taken to the John Black funeral home.

The accident occurred on Route 13 about 80 yards west of Otter Creek which passes beneath the Highway, east of the intersection at Bristol Cemetery.

Fusco was injured Friday afternoon at about three o'clock when his automobile struck head-on a Philadelphia trolley on Frankford avenue near Academy Road. He was thrown from his car, the car was ruined, the trolley damaged, and the motorman and three passengers were shaken.

The front wheels of the trolley were thrown off the truck against a motor truck traveling in the same direction. The truck was slightly damaged.

Fusco was attempting to pass another car headed in the same direction when his automobile hit the front of the street car. He was taken to the Nazareth Hospital.

Survivors of the young man are his parents, Peter and Elizabeth Fusco; and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Michael DeMeo, Mrs. Anthony DeMeo, Mrs. Hilbert Fuessel, New York, N. Y.; Mrs. Fusco, New York, N. Y.

$25,000 Fire Destroys Pavilion at Tohickon Park

PIPERSVILLE, July 3—A pavilion, now a part of Camp Hoffman, on Route 611, at Tohickon Park, two miles north of here, was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The loss is put at $25,000.

Two fire companies, Plumsteadville, which arrived first, and Ottsville, which was second on the scene, were unable to save the long, one-story windowed structure which was built on a hillside adjacent to Tohickon stream.

The pavilion, which was about 80 feet long and 35 feet wide, burned so quickly that firemen were unable to halt the flames.

Chief Walter Rush, of Plumsteadville Fire Company, said one of the kitchen help first saw the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The camp, which is a recreational spot for hundreds of Philadelphians, was to have opened this week-end.

Come To Bristol July 4th
The residents of the Bristol area are invited to attend the Independence Day celebration to be held here Tuesday evening, July 4th. The program will start at 7:30 with a few brief speeches followed by a fireworks display.

The affair will be staged in Bristol Memorial Park at Jefferson avenue and Mansion streets.

The sponsors of the event are the Clubmen's Association of Bristol.

Thinks A-Bomb Should Be Used In S. Korea

St. Louis—Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Nobel Prize scientist who helped perfect the atomic bomb, thinks the dreaded weapon should be used in South Korea if the military situation warrants. Dr. Compton, Chancellor of Washington University in St. Louis, expressed his view in a news conference on his return from a three-week trip through Europe.

Paris — Robert Schuman, sponsor of the Schuman plan to pool Europe's coal and steel industries, was continued on in his post as Foreign Minister today in the new Cabinet of Henri Queuille. Premier Queuille's new right-of-center government, in which he will also serve as Interior Minister, includes Georges Bidault as Vice-Premier, Rene Pleven as Defense Minister and Paul Reynaud as Minister of the French Union.

Red Troops Forced Back Near Suwon

Tokyo—Tank-faced Communist troops, nearing battle with U. S. infantry, were forced back tonight after thrusting pincer prongs into strategic Suwon's north and south approaches and widening the invasion front toward South Korea's east coast. (A Reuters dispatch datelined the South Korea front said that rocket-equipped North Korean fighter planes have inflicted the first casualties upon United States troops. There were no details.) Advanced U. S. Army headquarters in Korea announced that the North Korean twin push on the key Suwon air base had been "stopped" by nightfall and that the enemy's Russian-made tanks in that sector had retired after an apparent armored reconnaissance in force.

A communique issued from U. S. advanced headquarters on the Korean front at 8:30 p. m. Monday (3:30 a. m. EDT) said that "no major changes occurred on the fighting front during the day." "The enemy attempted minor drives but has again fallen back," the official war front bulletin declared. "The enemy tanks which were reported across the Han this morning have turned back. They were apparently only on a reconnaissance mission."

It is doubtful whether Americans today fully realize the bold and daring nature of the decision which led to the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776.

The 13 colonies along the Atlantic Seaboard were small and weak and the colonists were bitterly divided on the wisdom of the step. It took no little courage for men like Thomas Jefferson, Caesar Rodney, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas McKean to risk their lives and fortunes by openly defying the great power of the British Crown to declare these colonies "free and independent states."

Not the shooting of firecrackers or the rocket's red glare will contain the meaning of Independence Day. The true meaning is to preserve a high esteem for the gift of freedom at a time when the darkness of tyranny is all around.

An anniversary is empty unless one rededicates himself to original purposes. The original purpose of this nation, as eloquently expressed by its founders, was equality of opportunity for all. The thought itself at that time, 174 years ago, was world-shaking. A great many Americans and most foreigners thought the colonists would not get away with it. It was an ideal, for a fact, and in numerous ways America has fallen short of it.

But the idea, in its general form, has had a great triumph here in the New World. During the Nineteenth and a part of the Twentieth centuries it was a leaven in many lands. It has made America the greatest of all nations.

The divine right of kings has been thrown off. Despotism is coming back in another form. Individuals seeking power agitate against republican processes behind promises of soaking the rich and lifting up the poor. The farther that campaign continues, the more its mockery becomes apparent.

Finally the agitators, installed in places of power, rule not by divine right but by the authority of force and fear. Thus the clock turns back and the American ideal suffers.

Men's suits should be allowed to "rest" every other week, says a clothing expert. But who wants to stay in bed half the time?

Architects propose bathrooms that will accommodate three persons at a time. Why not four and have bathroom quartet music?

The government's forthcoming volume on "The Sex Life of a Watermelon" is expected to be of great interest to other watermelons, which will have little time to read it, this being their busy season.

Congress will go home with many proposed laws unacted. This will offend those who think there ought to be another law.

Writer for the GOP declares the campaign is between fat, over-stuffed Democrats and long, lean Republicans, who are also hungry.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Feb. 13, 1902. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published at Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The following Bristolians have been drawn to serve on the jury for the April and May terms of court: John Brishen, weaver; J. Curtis Howell, merchant; Walter Jackson, gentleman; Lawrence Motz, merchant; Frank Pierce, barber.

Howard McMullen, who learned his trade with McMullen Brothers, the Bristol plumbers, has obtained a position on board the United States transport "McClellan," as chief plumber and will sail from New York for the Philippines on the 22nd instant. A brother of Howard's is chief engineer on the same vessel.

While the river is frozen over and communications between Bristol and Burlington is easy, it would be well to avoid visiting our neighboring Jersey city. Twelve cases of smallpox are under treatment in Burlington, and two have died from the effects of the loathsome disease. Bristol has been very fortunate in escaping the contagion, and quarantine should be established and communication prevented between the two towns.

FALLSINGTON—A poodle dog belonging to Charles Headley had its hair set on fire by a spark from the grate several days ago and came near setting fire to the house. The frenzied animal ran under a sofa, a mass of flames, and was seen by Mr. Headley before the fire communicated to the furniture. The dog was badly burned.

LOWER BENSALÉEM—Friday evening the prayer meeting of the Edgely Presbyterian Church was conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. Polk, who gave a very good instructive talk to which Mr. Ellis added a few remarks. At the close of the services the Christian Endeavor held a business meeting where the election of officers took place, resulting as follows: F. M. Paist, president; Claxton Ely, vice-president; George Cherry, secretary; Miss Mabel Steele, corresponding secretary.

WEST BRISTOL TOWNSHIP—About 3:30 p. m. last Tuesday a Turk and his family, consisting of a wife and a few children, and four white bears, stopped in front of Badger school, and the children were so glad to see them perform, they produced pennies and plenty of lunch.

George Bruce, on Monday last, met with what almost proved to be a very serious accident. While skating on the Delaware river, about half a mile from Bristol, he skated into an air hole, but with rare presence of mind he extended his arms which prevented him from going under the ice. As no one was in sight to give him aid he tried to crawl out but the ice kept breaking. He kept his head above water until he managed to draw himself out almost exhausted from the cold. By the time he reached home all his clothing was frozen.

The ice on the Delaware river, near College wharf, is said to be over eight inches thick. People

Gown Worn By Grandmother Donned By Bristol Bride

Costumed in the wedding gown worn by her maternal grandmother 53 years ago, Miss Louise A. Smith was wed on Saturday to Mr. Edward E. Harm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Harm, Cedar avenue, Croydon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith, 564 Swain street.

The maternal grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Guenzel, Philadelphia, was in attendance at the ceremony in Zion Lutheran Church at four o'clock to watch her granddaughter take marriage vows in the costume which is more than a half century old. The two-piece costume was of white lawn, with leg-o-mutton sleeves, it having the original lace which trimmed it for the bride of long ago. The lace provided a high neckline, with satin bow at the front, the lace continuing down either side of the front of the bodice for bolero-like effect. Lace at the cuff-like extended over her hands. The train was a very brief one, the skirt being cut with some fullness. The costume had an old-fashioned sash with back bow of satin. Her triple-tiered illusion veil, finger-tip in length, was attached to a bonnet type head-piece with orange blossom trim. A shower of baby breath fell from an arm bouquet of white roses and white orchid.

Miss Charlotte Smith, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, she wearing yellow; Mrs. Horace Saxton, Jr., Buckley street, and Mrs. Charles Cantwell, Croydon, bridesmaids, the former wearing orchid and the latter aqua. Marquise was used for their gowns, these having illusion necklines, and lace-edged ruffles providing off-shoulder effect. Back peplums were of lace, these extending to provide apron effect in front. The trio wore slippers of white; lace picture hats matching their gowns; short, marquise, detachable sleeves; and they carried white baskets containing flowers. The basket of the maid of honor was filled with red roses; that of Miss Saxton with yellow ones; and Mrs. Cantwell carried pink rose-buds.

Best man for Mr. Harm was Mr. Frank Foster, Croydon, a brother of the bridegroom; ushers including Mr. Horace Saxton, Jr., Buckley street, and Mr. Harvey Smith, Swain street, the bride's brother.

The Rev. Paul Gleichman, pastor of the church, officiated; Miss Lois Bolton, Wood street, serving as organist. Mrs. Arthur Peterson, New Buckley street, sang three selections—"I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Today's Quiet Moment

O Thou Eternal God and Father of all, we beseech Thee that Thou mayest have forbearance with us, for in the pursuit of peace we have again entered into war. With one accord, we repent of our national sins and of our collective guilt. We regret with bitter tears the harsh measures which have become necessary to maintain the integrity of the United Nations' Organization. We acknowledge Thy sovereign power, alone, to give and to take away human life and the tremendous moral responsibility we have assumed for the physical and spiritual welfare of an aggressor nation. Therefore do we implore Thee that Thou mayest bring the war in Korea to an early end, together with the preservation of those natural courses of freedom and righteousness which we have enjoyed as a people in these United States. Thus may the nations come to know and to serve the one holy God, through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

Mr. Smith escorted his daughter to the altar.

For attendance at the ceremony Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore an aqua beanie print, natural straw hat with brown trim, brown slippers, natural straw bag, white gloves, and corsage of yellow tea roses. Mrs. Harm, the bridegroom's mother, selected a poudre blue dress, gray accessories, white gloves, and pink rose corsage.

Site of the dinner for the Smith and Harm families was Goodwill Hose Co. station, the evening reception also taking place there. Leaving for a week's stay in the Pocono Mountains, Mrs. Harm wore a green beanie print dress, white slip.

pers, white hat with black feather, white topper, and an orchid. The two plan to reside with Mr. Harm's parents until the house they have purchased is ready for occupancy. Both are graduates of Bristol high school, the bride being of the class of 1948, and Mr. Harm of the 1947 class.

The former Miss Smith gave her attendants gold necklaces and earrings set with rhinestones; and to his attendants the bridegroom gave tie clasps and cuff links.
